Harry's Story

Fill in the missing words

Every day before _____ he would get up and _____ his delivery tricycle.

After breakfast he would put on his _____. First his big strong _____ and then the coat with shiny _____ and finally the _____.

A hundred years ago very few people had _____. Harry's job was to carry their _____ in his _____.

'This hill is _____' said Harry, 'I wish I had _____ to help me _____.'

At last Harry _____ the goods. Then it was back to the _____ for another _____.

Riding a bike was _____ because the streets were made of _____ and the bike had _____ made of solid _____.

After a long day's _____, Harry was _____ and ready for a _____ of bangers and _____ back at the shop.

The Victorian street - then and now

Look at the pages of Harry's story to see the Victorian street of 100 years ago. Think about what you see in a street today.

What can you see in a Victorian street?

What can you see in a street today?

	In a Victorian street	In a street today
